G'wood, W'stock get word on flood relief funds

The towns of Greenwood and Woodstock recently received word on how much they will receive from federal and state offers for repair of flood damage caused to public works in the April 1 flood.

Greenwood will receive about $14,000, according to Road Commissioner Raymond W. Seames. "They gave me what I put in for," he said.

Total damage to roads and bridges in the town actually amounted to about $17,000, Mr. Seames said, but the federal and state authorities will not pay for repair jobs that cost less than $500. They will also not pay for small patching jobs necessitated by flood damage, which they regard as normal maintenance.

Mr. Seames said the federal government will pay for 75 percent of the bill while the state will pick up 25 percent of the tab.

Mr. Seames said he is still finding damage caused by the flood. Just last week he noticed that the Sanborn River bridge, on Patch Mountain, had been damaged. He immediately closed it to truck traffic and will make temporary repairs this week. He estimated it will require $2,000-$3,000 to properly repair it, and he intends to make another claim with FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Agency).

The Town of Woodstock has been promised about $42,000 by the federal and state inspectors, which is actually more than the town had asked for. "They assessed the damage at more than we had estimated," said Town Manager Kathleen Mersereau.

She said she doesn't expect to see any of the money until the work is done and the final bills are sent to FEMA. She said she expects reimbursement shortly after the bills are sent in.

Adult education graduation June 2

The SAD #44 Adult and Community Education program will hold its 1987 graduation ceremonies on Tuesday evening, June 2, at the Telstar Regional High School cafeteria at 7:30.

Adult and Community Education Director Cathy Newell has announced that 22 adults have earned their Telstar Regional High School diploma or Maine high school equivalency (GED) diplomas during the past year. The graduates will receive their diplomas from SAD #44 Chairman Darlene Hall of Andover. The graduation address will be given by State Representative Jeffrey Mills of Bethel, with the invocation and benediction to be delivered by Rev. Lisa Vanderheide of the Bethel United Methodist Church. A special achievement award will be given, as well as book awards which are given by the faculty to their students.

Graduates in 1987 are: Bruce Abbott, Bryant Pond; Doreen Cox, Bryant Pond; Ken Daggett, Bryant Pond; Gertrude Friel, Bethel; Andrew Koch, Bethel; Kenneth Koskela, Bryant Pond; Nancy and Norman Marin, Milton Plantation; Patricia Meader, Albany; Michael Merrifield, West Bethel; Norman Moore, West Paris; Kelly Osgood, Locke Mills; Rick Osgood, Bryant Pond; Shane Remington, Bethel; Cynthia Scott, West Paris; Lisa Skinner, West Paris; Kim Storch, Bethel; Robert Taylor, Bethel; and Reginald Westleigh, West Bethel. In addition, Ronald Chisholm of Auburn, Timothy Douglas of South Paris, and Michael Gray of Burnham received their GEDs through the SAD #44 Adult and Community Education program as part of the Maine Army National Guard Project.

Friends and family of the graduates, as well as anyone interested in adult education, are welcome to attend the graduation exercises and reception which will last about one hour.

Delayed start of school

Next Monday, June 1, the start of the school year in SAD #44 schools will be delayed by one hour.

Tri-Town plans open house May 31

Tri-Town Rescue will open the doors of its new rescue barn at Trap Corner to the public on Sunday, May 31, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The ambulance service moved out of the old fire station on Kingsbury Street, West Paris, to the Route 26 building last week. Some finish work is still needed on the trim and landscaping. The building has a kitchen and laundry, bathroom and two-day garage with a storage loft.

The Region 11 vocational students built the building last fall as part of their building trades experience. Much of the finish work was donated by Tri-Town members and people in the community. Everyone is invited to see the building Sunday afternoon. The auxiliary has planned light refreshments.

Last Wednesday the total membership met at the new building to christen the new building and vote on a few members of the present board took exception to this, so he let the matter drop. He observed that terms of members were usually for one year with extensions usually accepted on a matter of course. The board should meet once a month if possible, and

Newry officials discuss possible violations

Newry Selectmen Lee Swan and Roger Hancock met Tuesday morning with members of the planning board, Veronica Smith, Mike Lynch, and Nancy Noppa, to discuss the possible violation of the shoreland zoning and other town ordinances by Chapman and Wheeler in their logging operations on a lot they have recently purchased from Benson and Webster. They have been cutting and chipping there and it is understood they plan to develop the parcel into house lots. This area is between Route 26 and Bear River and is part of a parcel which was being considered for townhouse development a year ago.

The planning board felt there might be several violations: first, they did not obtain a permit to cut in a restricted area; and secondly, cutting was done too close to the river with too few trees left on the buffer strip near the river.

James Beyer from the Department of Environmental Protection, and local code enforcement officer John Gauthier were also present at the meeting. Mr. Beyer, Mr. Gauthier, Mrs. Smith and Mr. Lynch inspected the site and reported that they did feel there were violations. Mr. Gauthier, Mr. Lynch and Mrs. Smith had previously done an inspection, following which Mr. Gauthier had informed Chapman and Wheeler, in writing, of the findings. Following issuance of the letter, operations had been suspended.

Following further discussion, it was suggested that the selectmen, the planning board, and the code enforcement officer meet with Chapman and Wheeler in an attempt to resolve the situation. It was felt that a fine might be levied and the violators might be requested to cover the area with hay or re-seed where the

MSAD #44 DIRECTORS' MEETING

Portable classroom building approved

The SAD #44 Board of Directors held a regular meeting at the Andover Elementary School on Monday evening of this week.

The board approved the leasing of a portable classroom for special education classes at the Woodstock School. During the past two years, since state and voter approval of the new Woodstock School, there has been an unanticipated growth in both student enrollments and special education program needs at Woodstock. The state has approved SAD #44's request for the lease of the portable, single-level 12 x 22' divided classroom. The lease will be for four years at $4,800 annually. State lease reimbursement will be $7,744 the year following expiration. Funding for fiscal year 1988 will be accomplished by a reallocation of funds within the special education budget (see below).

In the budget for fiscal year 1988, $55,756 was earmarked for out-of-district special education placement for two students. Both of these students will be returning and attending school in the district next year. The directors approved the reallocation of $18,200 of these funds as follows: occupational therapy, physical therapy, psychological services, $10,000; an additional full-time special education teacher, $20,000; continuation

W. Paris voters consider altering election process

On June 9, West Paris voters will hold a special town meeting to decide, among other matters, whether to institute an Australian ballot election for town officials. The officers that would be affected are: selectman, town clerk, road commissioner and school director.

In an informational letter to town residents, Town Clerk Gwen Ellingwood explained that the Australian ballot system is a secret ballot system where the voters vote for known candidates. Candidates desiring to run for office would have to take out nomination papers ahead of time. Presently, town meeting voters nominate candidates from the floor.

Candidates for office would have to return their nomination papers signed by no less than 25 registered voters. Nomination of candidates would cease 20 days prior to the election, which would be held separate from town meeting—at a date and time to be decided by the electorate.

There will be some extra expense in running an election separate from town meeting, Mrs. Ellingwood pointed out, but it should not be over $150.

The benefits are many, she said. "The voters will know who is running, can interview if they please and vote at their convenience during polling hours. This new process may cost a little, but its benefits and services, particularly to the elderly, are long overdue."

Also on the special town meeting warrant for the June 9 meeting is an article to see if the voters will accept a new floodplain management ordinance that would bring the town into compliance with the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, thereby making it easier for residents to obtain flood insurance.

Also on the warrant is a discussion of solid waste disposal alternatives for the town.

There will be a public hearing tonight (Wednesday), at 7 p.m. at the fire station, on the proposed articles.

Plans are to install the sign on the grass triangle at the southeast entrance to Telstar, with power supplied by underground cable from the maintenance

Opinions

Democrats no friend of labor

The Democrats in the Legislature are attempting to play up to the unions and, in the process, are passing legislation that will cost jobs in the state.

The first attempt to sidle up to the unions occurred two weeks ago when the Democrat-controlled Legislature passed a bill that would make employers liable for a portion of the costs associated with drug-rehabilitation for any workers who required such rehabilitation. The provision was included in a bill that would prohibit random drug-testing in the workplace.

Gov. McKernan vetoed the bill, saying drug-testing might be called for in some safety-related jobs and should not be prohibited wholesale; his veto was upheld.

No matter if one considers drug-testing fair or the drug tests accurate, a broader question is whether or not employers should be held financially responsible for the non-work-related actions of their employees. If one argues, as the Democrats do, that an employer is responsible for the at-home or at-play actions of employees, then it surely follows that the employer should be allowed to have a say in how the employees behave themselves away from the workplace. This is a notion that few workers would accept—and with good reason.

The employer-employee relationship is based on exchanging a certain amount of work for a certain amount of pay. Karl Marx argued that this was a cruel, exploitative relationship that would lead to revolt by the workers against the capitalist system. And, in truth, workers in the early part of the Industrial Revolution were treated cruelly, especially in comparison with the more personal relationships that had characterized the preceding feudal age.

But as the industrialization process matured—and with the aid of the union movement—employees gained more of a say in their relationship with employers. Employers, together with government agencies, nowadays in industrialized nations—whether capitalist or socialist—do accept a lot of the responsibilities for caring for their workers. Health care plans, paid vacations, child care, unemployment insurance, workers' compensation for injury on the job, severance pay, etc., are all aspects of the modern employer-employee compact. It is still based on a given amount of work for a given amount of money—but there are a lot of fringe benefits as well.

But the worker is still an individual and must still be allowed to run his or her life as he or she sees fit. And the worker must accept the responsibility for his or her actions. If drug use is part of a person's lifestyle, that person must accept the responsibility for making that decision. It is not up to the employer to dictate that the person's lifestyle must be changed, or to pay for changing it.

However, the employer has a right to know what sort of a person is being hired—and a probationary period would be as accurate a screening process as drug-testing.

The next piece of anti-worker legislation expected from the Democrats is a move to increase the minimum wage in the state, raising it to $3.95, or 60 cents above the federal minimum wage.

The argument for a higher minimum wage is that a worker with a family cannot raise his or her family earning $3.35 an hour.

That's probably true; but neither can a worker raise a family on $3.95 an hour. The object in life is to work one's way up the scale of ability, responsibility and commensurate pay. One starts at an entry level position and learns new skills, which are then worth a higher amount in the business marketplace. If an employer has to shell out a lot of money to a person just starting out, with few skills and in need of a lot of training, the employer will think twice about hiring the additional help. Instead, the employer will look to options: temporary help and labor-saving machinery.

The only beneficiary of a higher minimum wage is organized labor, because there will be fewer new workers coming into the factories as employers cut back on hiring; thus the workers already in will face less competition from outside and will be able to negotiate better contracts for themselves.

The Democrats should understand that what is needed in Maine is more job opportunities, not fewer. The way to develop these opportunities is to improve the business climate in the state so that employers will expand the production of goods and services here rather than be forced to contract.

A note from the publisher

Seeing the flags in our communities lowered to half-mast in remembrance of the 37 sailors who died on the USS Stark makes me angry. I'm angry at our government for building ships that, apparently, cannot defend themselves. I'm angry at the Navy establishment for placing an apparently defenseless warship in a situation that could lead to tragedy. And I'm angry at the captain of the Stark for allowing his men to be killed and his ship to be damaged.

In the final analysis, it is the captain's responsibility to decide to put to sea. If he thinks his ship can't cope with the job asked of it, he simply has to tell his superiors that his ship isn't ready for sea.

It's actually not a simple thing for a ship's captain to say, but it's the only thing to say if you believe your ship can't defend itself either from the elements or from whatever enemy hazard it might encounter.

I'm especially angry at President Reagan for calling the dead sailors heroes. They did nothing heroic. They were poor slobs following orders. Their ship was either poorly designed for the task they were given, or they had not been adequately trained to carry out that task, or the task was one that could not be carried out by a single ship.

The President seems to have a habit of ordering American forces into hazardous areas and then declaring them heroes when they come back to these shores in body bags. The Marines who died in their barracks in Lebanon are the other prime example of this administration's haphazard use of military forces.

I do grieve for the sailors lost on the Stark. As a former Navy man I grieve me quite personally to see shipmates die, especially senselessly. But I won't accept the President's idea that they did something heroic by dying, particularly when the President's sense of heroism extends even to L.L. Cooly, Oliver North, who is likely to be soon indicted on a number of criminal charges in relation with his illegal handling of funds for the Contras.

I would hope that the politicians in Washington will use the tragedy of the Stark for more than political purposes. I would hope they will use it to determine whether we are purchasing ships that are suited to the purposes we deem necessary, and whether we are using these ships in a manner that makes sense. Needless to say, sailors obviously does not make sense.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

In recent months we have had to recognize that growth in the Bethel area is coming if we like it or not. We have heard from many concerned citizens in opposition to the so-called condominium mania. While some other of our citizens are happy about our growth and the added tax dollars from property taxes. Most of us realize that the added tax base can only help us in the long run. Condominiums used for recreation and vacation purposes require little or no town services (water and sewage being separately billed and paid for).

Recent opposition to new construction in Bethel's Historic District led to a lot of debate and pitting many well meaning members of this community against each other. This type of atmosphere is not good for a growing community and can to totally avoided by taking advantage of all this town has to offer.

All the newcomers, customers for these condominiums or townhouses do not want to destroy the nature or atmosphere in this town, that is the reason they come here in the first place. I am absolutely sure that these people do not care if the exterior of the condo or townhouse looks like it belongs in the late 17th century or is Danish modern. Most people come to Bethel because of the beauty and atmosphere that is here at the present time. Price seems to be no object as recent real estate transactions prove.

This town has an ace in the hole so to speak which can help us retain all that we hold so dear in nature and atmosphere. The Bethel Historical Society under the very capable leadership of Dr. Stanley Howe should be asked to get involved. This type of approach has worked throughout Europe's Historical Districts for centuries (and there is no reason why it won't work in Bethel).

The historical society is devoted to Bethel and will do their utmost to preserve it. Let these capable and devoted people get involved. Publicize the fact that developers should seek the approval prior to application for permits. Most developers are eager to please the community so ask their architects to work with the historical society so that nature and atmosphere can be protected before applications are started or permits are requested. A simple review by the Bethel Historical Society might answer a whole lot of questions the architect has long before any decisions on type of structure are on paper. This can be done on a voluntary basis by just all the right people early enough, try to work together—it's easier and better for all concerned. The alternative is all too painful and costly.

Would you like to see the Barn Motel duplicated many times along Bethel's roads? Rumor has it Blake's farm is going to be a hillside of condominiums. Probably won't look much worse than the satellite dish antenna along what used to be beautiful rural route 26 with farms and beautiful countryside. I am not in opposition to these projects—I merely use these as two examples. I like to remind us all that there may be a better way at little additional cost to the developer and no additional cost to us all.

Once Bethel loses its charm all will be lost. So wake up and protect what we have. There are many ways to preserve the Bethel area. It takes little effort to organize a special town meeting and legislate this type of approach or article or an historical review board could be added to the planning board. We know that if people work together to preserve architectural and historical charm and atmosphere success is possible. Example, McDonald's in Freeport. Just one of many successful historically compatible modern buildings in this State.

Lions Club searching for Princess Mollycokett

The Bethel Lions Club has started its annual search for a young lady to be honored as Princess Mollycokett during Mollycokett Day, Saturday, July 18.

Young ladies interested in being considered for the role of Princess Mollycokett should submit a short background history, a recent photograph, and a short essay stating why they would like to be chosen as Princess Mollycokett and what it means to them and the community.

Those wishing to be Princess must be at least 15 years old and not more than 18, and must have lived in the area covered by SAD #4 for at least two years. The deadline for submitting entries is July 10. Entries should be sent to Eldon Greenleaf, Box 43, Bethel, Maine 04217.

Princess Mollycokett will preside over Mollycokett Day festivities such as the parade, the awarding of prizes during the day and the Old Time Fiddlers Contest in the evening. She will receive a savings bond and trophy from the Bethel Lions Club.

Tracksters shine at conference meet

The Telstar Regional High School girls' track team had a great day at the Mountain Valley Conference meet in Gardiner last Saturday, coming in 5th and bringing home 17 ribbons.

Two girls walked away with 1st-place finishes: Traci Higgins took a 1st-place in the triple jump, with a leap of 32-feet 2-inches, which was her best of the season. Sarah Chapman took a 1st-place in the 100-meter hurdles, with a time of 18-seconds flat.

A 2nd-place finish went to the strong 1600-meter relay team of Sherry Nichols, Christine Hunt, Amy Blake and Traci Higgins. Blake did an outstanding job as a last-minute substitute for Ellen Hastings, who was out with an injury.

Traci Higgins and Amy Blake also won 3rd-place ribbons. Higgins in the long jump and Blake in the 300-meter hurdles, bettering her best time by 3.5 seconds.

The 400-meter relay team of Christine Hunt, Sarah Chapman, Paula Michaud and Deb Bodwell took a 4th-place. Hunt did an excellent job substituting for the injured Hastings.

Deb Bodwell and Linda Learned both had 5th-place finishes. Bodwell in the shot put and Learned in the discus.

Sixth-place ribbons were brought home by three of the girls. Deb Bodwell in the 200-meter dash, with a time of 29.5 seconds; Val Morton in the javelin and Paula Michaud in the 100-meter hurdles. The girls team will be going to Brunswick this Saturday to participate in the regional meet.

The girls' team came in first in a four-way meet at Mexico last Tuesday. The scores were Telstar 118, Rumford 46, M. Abram 39, and Mexico 38.

Scoring at the meet were: Ellen Hastings—1st 100-meter, 1st 200-meter, 1st 400-meter, and 1st 1600-meter; Sarah Chapman—1st 100-meter hurdles, 1st 400-meter relay, 2nd 100-meter, and 4th high jump; Deb Bodwell—1st shot put, 1st 400-meter relay, 2nd 200-meter, and

To the Editor:

This story may be of interest to you and to warn citizens that may be traveling on our roads today.

Between Bethel and Newry on Rtes. #2 and #26 there is a rest stop. Many times I parked my car there and no trouble. I lived in Upton for years and came to Bethel to visit Dr. Young. He is dead the last 10 years. Last Friday I parked my car at the rest stop P.M. and was asleep on the front seat, and something woke me up to find that someone had smashed my car windows. They broke a window on each door and smashed the rear glass. I started up the car to find myself plugged in. By whom and why. I looked through the one glass and noticed the car plate number, and then they decided to get in their car and spun the wheels and sped away. If I did not wake up what would they have done, and if I woke up when they broke the first what would they do. Why would anyone want to do such harm to a man asleep on the front seat of his car. I drove over to Rumford to the police department and showed the damaged windows and said I knew what the color of the car was and looked at the plates. Thank you for your concern.

Bethel area swim program to start Monday, June 29

The Bethel Area Swim Program for 1987 will begin on Monday, June 29, and will run for four weeks, ending on Friday, July 24. Regular children's classes will be scheduled throughout the day beginning at 9 a.m. at Songo Pond.

Any child six years old or entering the first grade in the fall is eligible for regular class instruction. Classes will include: Non-Swimmer, Beginner, Advanced Beginner, Intermediate, Swimmer, and Basic Rescue and Water Safety.

The summer schedule is designed to accommodate all ranges of ability and interest.

Non-Swimmer is intended for young children who are either afraid of the water or who have no previous experience but desire to learn to swim. This class focuses on the basics of wading, putting the face in the water, floating, rhythmic breathing, and beginning rudiment of beginner stroke.

Beginner stroke is intended for young children who have either previous swim experience, able to perform the above mentioned skills in the Non-Swimmer class, or are comfortable in the water. Children enrolling in this class should be able to swim unassisted 15 feet, put their faces in the water, and float on their backs.

Prerequisites for the Advanced Beginner class include swimming for 20 yards using the crawl stroke, diving into deep water and treading water.

Potential intermediates should be able to perform the crawl stroke for 50 yards, elementary backstroke, survival stroke, and be relaxed in deep water.

Swimmer candidates should be able to swim the crawl stroke 75 yards, elementary backstroke and have mastered separately the arm strokes and kicks of the breaststroke and sidestroke.

Basic Rescue and Water Safety is for youngsters age 11 or older who desire to learn basic non-contact rescue and increase awareness of personal water safety. Students must have passed Swimmer class or the equivalent. This class is open to adults. A minimum of six students is necessary to conduct this class. There is 5th 100-meter; Traci Higgins—1st triple jump, 1st 1600-meter relay, 3rd shot put, and 4th long jump; Sherry Nichols—1st high jump, 1st 1600-meter relay; Paula Michaud—1st 400-meter relay, 4th 100-meter hurdles; Christine Hunt—1st 1600-meter relay, 4th 400-meter; Diana Moxey—1st discus; Karen Gould—2nd 100-meter hurdles, 3rd 300-meter hurdles, 4th triple jump.

Also, Shannan Tyler—2nd high jump; Amy Blake—2nd 300-meter hurdles, 5th 100-meter hurdles; Linda Learned—2nd discus, 5th javelin, 5th shot put; April Cole—3rd 1600-meter, 3rd 3200-meter; Darlene Haskell—3rd 800-meter; Jessica Kallejian—4th 1600-meter, 4th 800-meter; Angela Sawyer—5th 1600-meter; Stephanie Percival—4th javelin, 4th discus; Missy Palmer—5th 800-meter.

The boys' track team placed first in a four-way meet against Mexico, Rumford, and M. Abram. High scorer for the meet was Scott Haines. Scott swept four 1st places in the 100-meter, 200-meter, 400-meter and the long jump. He broke school records in both the 400- and 200-meter dashes.

David Kersey broke his own record in the 300-meter hurdles, placing 2nd; 1st in the high jump, and 3rd in the 110-meter high hurdles. Andy Porter won the javelin and placed 4th in the shot put. Henrik Holmstrom placed 3rd in the 800 and 4th in the 1600-meter. Amos Kimball placed 2nd in the 200-meter and 5th in both the 100- and 400-meter.

Dennis Gallant topped a 3rd in the high jump. Jason Miserecki raced to a 3rd place finish in the 3200-meter. Jamie Blake was kept busy with a 4th in the triple jump and 4th place finishes in the 400, 200 and long jump.

Todd Davis added a 4th in the long jump and 5th in the triple jump. Fred Kuvaja placed 5th in the shot put. Kirke Haskell scored a 5th in the 3200-meter run.

Dennis Gallant, Amos Kimball, Andy Porter and Henrik Holmstrom came in 2nd in the 4x100 relay.

A school record was set by the team of Todd Davis, Henrik Holmstrom, Andy Porter and David Kersey as they placed 1st in the 4x400-meter relay.

The Runnin' Rebels trekked to Gardiner this past Saturday for the Mountain Valley Conference Championship track meet. Telstar placed 6th out of 11 teams participating and was able to garner 17 ribbons.

Scott Haines led the scorers with a win in the 400-meter, 2nd places in both the 200-meter (bettering his own school record by a full second) and long jump, plus a 4th place in the 100-meter. David Kersey helped the Telstar cause with two 3rd-place finishes in the high jump and 300-meter intermediate hurdles. He also placed 5th in the 110-meter high hurdles (David's times in both the intermediate hurdles and high hurdles bettered school record performances that he had previously established).

Andy Porter had his best throw of the season in the javelin and finished with a 4th place.

Henrik Holmstrom sprinted to the finish at the end of the 800-meter and was able to grab a 6th place in that event. The 4x100 relay team of Todd Davis, Andy Porter, Amos Kimball and Henrik Holmstrom placed 5th.

Another school record, set the previous Tuesday, was shattered in the 4x400 relay by the team of Jamie Blake, Henrik Holmstrom, Andy Porter and David Kersey. They placed 6th in the event.

The regional meet is this Saturday, at Bowdoin.

all records should be deemed public. The board should be allowed to develop a Comprehensive Plan and at least work on Subdivision Regulations. These latter would have to incorporate some state-mandated requirements. He also claimed that the board could help review subdivisions between now and fall by making recommendations to the selectmen as long as they had the final say. Of course, the board can continue to do shoreland zoning, which has been its province all along anyway. He further observed that the same information the board could get from applicants, such as pre-applications, the more flexible the board could be in its decisions.

Selectman George Hooper noted that there is a possibility that yet another subdivision may be coming before the selectmen soon, requiring some five years of development. Whether the board will be the body to ultimately rule on such developments remains to be seen. This will be more or less up to the Woodstock voters at a special town meeting in the fall or the town's annual meeting next March.

An additional charge for class material beyond the standard registration fee.

A Tiny Tot class may be offered if a sufficient number enroll. This is a class designed for parent and child together in the water assisted by the instructor. Exercise, water adjustment skills and some limited swimming skills for older children are the goals in this class. Children age five and under are eligible. A test is available and recommended for participating are solely dependent upon the individuals involved; there is no formal instruction or testing of the participants.

Registration forms will be available at the Bethel Town Office from June 1 through June 19. Completed forms for each child with the registration should be returned to the Bethel Town Office by June 19 for scheduling purposes. Fees are $5 per child.

The swim schedule will be posted in the June 24 issue of the Bethel Citizen.

A tentative schedule is listed as follows: 9:45, Advance Beginner; 10:30, Beginner; 11:15, Non-Swimmer; 12:00, Tiny Tot (subject to a sufficient number enrolling); 12:30, Non-Swimmer; 1:15, Beginner; 2:00, Swimmer; 2:45, Basic Rescue and Water Safety.

NOTES FROM

Telstar Guidance

Eighth grade parents and students are invited to attend a high school orientation provided by the Guidance Department and Freshman Awareness Committee at Telstar (FACT Team), on Wednesday, June 3, at 7 p.m.

This 90 minute program will consist of:

- Program of study/scheduling of courses.
- Study skills.
- Peer pressure issues.
- Self esteem resources.
- Extra-curricular activities.
- High school vs. middle school expectations.

Meeting with other parents, high school administration and students.

Therefore the theme of this program is making the best transition for 8th graders to their freshman year. Parents and their students are encouraged to attend this orientation in the Telstar complex library. Questions concerning this program may be directed to Mr. Hart at Telstar, 824-2138.

The initial registration for 1987-88 courses have been completed by grades 8-11. Mr. Hart will meet with individual classes for review and upgrade all schedules in early June. All students will be provided with their final schedules before school ends for the summer.

The Guidance Office extends congratulations to the following to the following seniors who recently received post secondary education news:

• Christopher Barton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Medford Barton of Greenwood, art therapy, Anna Maria College.

• Melissa Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Brown of Bethel, law enforcement, Southern Maine Vocational Institute, South Portland.

• Christopher Torrey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Wheeler of Bethel, college preparatory program, Maine Central Institute, Pittsfield.

The Guidance Office wishes to recognize several high school seniors for their time, commitment and interest in making the following guidance activities successful this year:

• Seniors Karen Gould, Loretta Long, and Lisa Boylan, who were instrumental in organizing and co-leading the Self Group meetings throughout the school year. Self Group will end prior to final exams June 12.

• Seniors Chris Chapman and Dan Cross, making the guidance information computer system a valuable career decision-making resource for middle school students, alumni, community members, and parents.

• Senior Linda Learned and Junior Delwin Wilson have coordinated the peer tutoring program since the second quarter. Over 25 students are peer tutors, serving their fellow students in many subject areas.

Dates/Events to Schedule:

• Monday, June 1-Job Search Workshop for all seniors; National Honor Society meeting; Self Group.

• Tuesday, June 2-Middle School Parents and Spirit Group meeting, 7 p.m.

• Wednesday, June 3-Eighth Grade Parents/Students Orientation, 7 p.m.

• Thursday, June 4-Guidance Information Computer System Alides meeting; Spring Sports Award Banquet, 7 p.m.

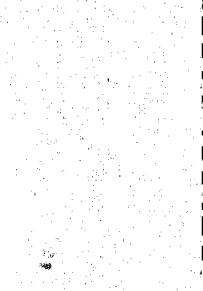

• Friday, June 5-Senior Banquet at The Balsams Resort, Dixville Notch, N.H.

Memorial Day commemorated in area towns

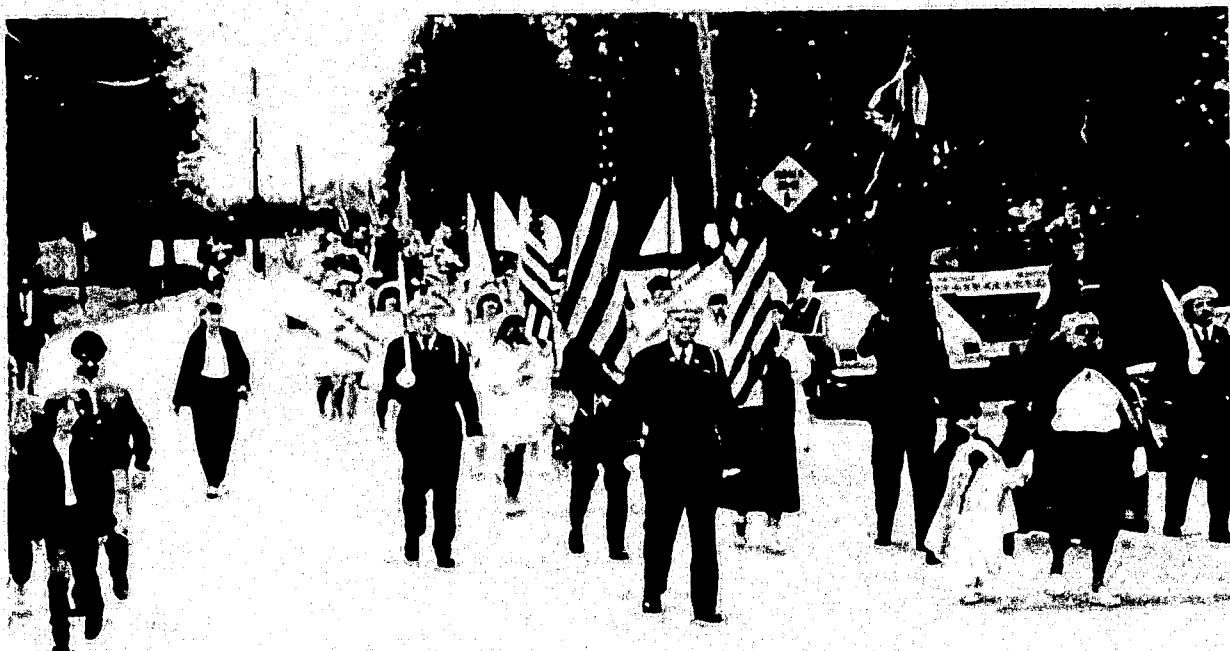

MEMBERS OF THE RING-MCKEEN POST led the parade in West Paris, followed by the Oxford Hills High School marching band, Pathfinders, Girl Scouts and others. Sgt. Craig Ryerson, of Bethel, was the parade marshal.

It was a day of parades and picnics, speechmaking and fishing, remembering departed comrades and enjoying present loved ones, decorating graves of the community's war dead and being thankful to be alive and living in America.

DON BENNETT WAS THE SPEAKER at Bethel's Memorial Day services, held this year on the Common. The Mundt-Allen Post formally turned over the new flagpole to the town during the services.

THE JACKSON-SILVER POST led the parades in Locke Mills (above) and in Bryant Pond, accompanied by their Poppy Girl, August Murphy. The post also decorated graves in the East Bethel cemetery, as well as the cemeteries in Locke Mills and Bryant Pond. Post member Alanson Cummings gave the address in Locke Mills, while member Roland Lord gave the address in Bryant Pond.

HONOR GUARDS, such as the one above, in the West Paris cemetery, fired volleys in remembrance of the war dead. Frank Stahl gave the address preceding the volley.

ance garage. Installation and hook-up is to cost the district less than $400.

Following separate executive sessions concerning discipline for drug-related issues involving three Telstar Middle School sixth graders (and resulting in 10-day suspensions for each), the directors accepted the recommendation of Telstar Principal Ted Davis in each case as follows: 1.-Each student had met the requirements of the Substance Abuse interview and shall return to school on Wednesday, May 27; 2.-All Telstar 6th graders will participate in a two period assembly and follow-up presented by Rodney Abbott and RADA (Rebels Against Drugs and Alcohol) on Friday, May 29; 3.-All Telstar 6th graders will participate in a group setting dealing with peer pressure and decision-making presented by Dave Walton and Sally Hannon during D period on Tuesday, June 2; 4.-All Telstar 6th graders will participate in a follow-up presentation by Louise Chapman dealing with peer pressure and decision making skills on Wednesday, June 10, during mid-day study. It was the feeling of the Telstar administration that the incidents demand attention of the entire Telstar 6th grade and that, at this time, isolation of the students involved was not the solution. All students need to be provided the same opportunity for education/awareness and peer pressure/decision making skills.

Additional executive sessions were also held for the disposition of discipline matters involving drugs concerning two students at Telstar Regional High School. In each of the instances the student may return to school on June 2, following a 10 day suspension; the student must complete evaluation by Tri-County Mental Health and comply and fulfill all the recommendations. In the event the students do not comply and fulfill the recommendations of the evaluation they are to be brought back before the board once again.

Board members not present Monday evening: Dick Crandall, Bethel; Gail Sysko, Newry; and Margaret Hand, Woodstock.

The next regular meeting of the SAD #44 directors is scheduled for 7:30 Monday evening, June 8, in the library at Telstar Regional High School.

BOY SCOUTS, GIRL SCOUTS, BROWNIES, Junior American Legion Auxiliary, Daughters of Union Veterans, Awana and others joined the parades in Locke Mills, Bryant Pond and Bethel.

Sunday River officials win management awards

Sunday River Ski Resort managers recently were awarded honors at national and regional conventions.

Sunday River Ski Resort President Les Otten was elected to the National Ski Areas Association's Board of Directors at the annual business meeting, held at the NSAA national convention and trade show in Reno, Nev. NSAA is a national organization of 750 ski areas and supplier companies that promotes the sport of skiing and safety in skiing.

Mr. Otten said he hopes the ski industry will focus on the sport's basics. "The average guy is staying away from skiing because of his perception of how much time it takes before you can have fun. We need to spend more money as an industry on marketing programs and education."

Under Mr. Otten's leadership, Sunday River's Guaranteed Learn-to-Ski-in-One-Day program has taught over 17,000 people to ski, placing emphasis on the fun and recreation the sport of alpine skiing offers.

Joan Putnam, Sunday River condominium check-in supervisor, was named 1987 Employee of the Year in the recreation supplier category at the annual Tourism Unity Dinner, in Portland. Gordon Clapp, director of tourism in the State Development Office, and Nancy Pray, chairwoman of the Maine Vacation Travel Commission, presented Mrs. Putnam with a State of Maine plaque honoring her outstanding service to her employer, her community and the travel industry.

I went to Norway last Sunday afternoon and attended Amber's and David's piano recital, then spent the rest of the week at The Cape, Otsfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parsons had a well drilled this week. They were in Rumford Thursday evening to attend the Community Concert.

Mrs. Christine Kimball with daughter Alberta visited their daughter and sister's grave in North Norway Friday. On Saturday Christine with her sister from Monmouth will visit their mother's grave in North Yarmouth. They will meet at a cousin's there for lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. David Salway were in Old Orchard Beach Saturday where they attended a Maine Guides game at the Ballpark and enjoyed a cook-out (inside) with their daughter Kasli and Bernie, and son Brandon.

The Songo Cemetery Association clean-up day and annual business meeting was held at the cemetery last Saturday. About 20 people did a good job with the mowing, raking and removing rubbish. At the business meeting all officers were re-elected: president, Earlon Keniston; vice president, David Salway; secretary, Mary Keniston; treasurer, Alice Kimball. Phyllis Lapham Bancroft was elected to the board of trustees. Plans for a food sale this summer were discussed.

Bethel woman conducts plant clinic at Ledgeview

The residents of Ledgeview Nursing Home were fortunate to receive some special attention at their plant clinic last Friday, as a Bethel plant shop owner visited them.

Every two weeks a clinic is held in the activity room. Residents bring house plants to be repotted, cut back, fed, split, or doctored in some way. The efforts of these residents are becoming quite evident in some of the common rooms of the home.

Activity Coordinator, Ruth Feeney, finds that plant therapy holds a very common interest among all residents, male and female. Participation may be on a group or individual basis, and some residents might send a plant to be treated, even if they cannot attend themselves.

Leslie Kavanagh, of Bethel, generously donated wax begonias and impatiens seedlings so that each resident potted a plant to take home. There was much sharing of knowledge and expertise, and the afternoon was very productive.

Local residents attending were: Evelyn Farnum, Methyl Gerrish, Aldana Langille, Myrtle Lapham, Mary Leathers, Flossie Twitchell and Myrtle Wing. The donation of time, talent, and seedlings by Leslie Kavanagh, new owner of Groan and McGurn Greenhouses, along with Sally Sawyer, was greatly appreciated.

Greenwood City

By COLISTA MORGAN

Picture this morning: the pond a huge mirror and a blue heron on shore waiting—watching. It evoked thoughts of balmy weather and fragrant flowers and laughing streams.

Then I looked toward my bird feeder and noticed a bit of red velvet. Red breasted grosbeak! He was a few days earlier than last year. The display of his crimson "heart" on his breast is always a thrill. I watched as he stashed away sunflower seeds. There are several that come every year but I never tire of watching them and listening to their "speaking voice" and lovely song. Mrs. is ordinary with no glamor and is often seen.

May is always a busy month because April leaves a good many things undone or only partly done. Its full schedule starts with early flowers like the saxifrage, hepatica and violets. May will hurry the wild columbine into bloom on the hedger.

Many birds return; too numerous to mention but all interesting to note. The purple finch is very exciting at times. Not only is he beautiful but he "sings for his supper." At one time I saw him sing with a seed in his bill as he held to the side of the feeder. He pours out his gushing ecstatic warble which is usually from the tops of trees. But when he does his mating dance, clad in his brightest rosiest plumage, he is indeed something! He faces her with quivering wings, fully extended, vibrating them so fast that they are a gauzy texture. With crown feathers erected he swings from side to side about her, pouring out his soft continuous twitterings, or his full loud mating song. So lovely!

May really is the heyday of the time that bridges the gap between winter and summer. It is the month of the year's loveliest. It is the month of melody. When the first faint fingers of dawn begin to caress the earth, from the woods, fields and the garden, there's a symphony to welcome the day, a hallelujah that proclaims spring!

Hilltops, trees, shrubs are taking on solid masses of green as the earth responds. Yes, it is spring!

Our Tuesday Club met on May 12 and went to Gray where we had dinner, then visited with Doris Hayes at her apartment for the afternoon. Evelyn Tarnham of Yarmouth joined us. There were 11 present.

The families of Fred and Rena Curtis have been very busy at the home place trying to get cleaned and organized so that they can get back home.

By ALICE HOYT

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Taylor, Strong, called on their aunts, Vera Swan and Clara Whitman, Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Glines, Jonathan and Joyn were weekend guests of her mother, Helen Ring.

Ruth Dunham visited her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Erland Scribner over the weekend.

Leatrice Chase, Althea and Danny Stevens were visitors of their mother and grandmother, Beatrice Farnum

David Holt, Standish, brought his daughter, Mary to the farm on Saturday to visit her grandparents for the weekend, then he visited Sunday.

Thursday I again visited Doris Hayes in Gray, this time with the T.T. Club—Lettie Brooks, Doris Slattery, Louvie Coffin and Dorothy Ross, all of West Paris.

Friday evening I attended the Delta Kappa Gamma meeting at Moses Mason House, Bethel, and on Saturday I went to Oxford to the retired teachers' meeting.

After church on Sunday I had dinner at the farm with the Holts—Leonas, Fay, Robert, Jenny, Ricky, Ann, David and Mary.

Monday. The Woodstock Senior Citizens will meet on Thursday, June 4, for a potluck dinner, with each one bringing a hot dish, salad or dessert and own place setting. A program will be held after dinner.

Franklin Grange #124 met on Monday, May 18, for a regular meeting with 21 present. It was agriculture night so Harris Hathaway had the program. The next three point meeting will be at West Paris on Thursday, June 4, with a 6:30 supper. Franklin Grange takes salads and fills the chairs. The program was as follows: reading, "Got Up" by Paul Billings; facts about farming in Woodstock by Harris Hathaway, taken from 1917 town report (there were 50 working farms at that time, now there is one); Robert Day told about when he was farming; reading by Mary Billings, "The Farmer"; reading from old newspaper of 1951 how one of Woodstock's oldest farms burned, the Quimby Perham place; song by all. Refreshments were served after the meeting. The next meeting will be election of officers and a memorial program.

CARD OF THANKS

I want to thank all who were so kind to help me in my hour of need: American Legion, Red Cross, and a special thanks to Diane and Dot. God Bless.

Alice McAllister

Students at the Ethel Bisbee and Crescent Park schools enjoyed an exciting day of reading and writing activities on Friday, May 22. All 1st through 5th-grade students participated in the first annual Young Authors' Conference, a fitting celebration for the enthusiasm that has been generated this year for the writing process. Fifth-grade teacher Kathy Barry and her class initiated extensive groundwork for the success of this special day.

Activities included presentations by published authors Mary Palmer and Phyllis Dock, explorations into poetry writing by published poet Roberta Chester, illustrating by local artists Helen Morton, Jewell Clark and Donny Catlin, storytelling by talented volunteer Jean Bass, Rainbow Reading activities by Bethel Librarian Betsy Raymond, story telling through music by elementary music teacher Liz Mikenas-Smith and volunteers Ellen Greeke and Gail Sysko, and Readers' Theater by Kindergarten teacher Norma Salway.

Students shared their own writing through share circles with teachers Judy Colledge, Kathleen McCluskey, Sheila Otero, Linda Wheeler, Susan Baldwin, Anne Corduan and Debra Germain, and volunteer Marguerite Graham, and the day ended with all students writing their own thoughts, impressions and learnings from the day.

Another one of the cool but beautiful mornings greets us today. The robins are busy as are all the other birds and small creatures. It seems as though it ought to warm up more mornings but hasn't as yet. Russell read 33 degrees on the thermometer this morning. Can't expect things to grow too well with the temperature that low. Thank goodness it warms up during the day, but not much help at night for the plants.

It was good to see Peggy when she came last week and she spent a busy day on Thursday, unpacking her car and trying to sort things out. She says she still has boxes she hasn't gone over as yet and it is hard to remember what one has packed when it was well over a month ago. I expect she will get them done someday soon and be surprised at what she finds.

Didn't do too much last Friday I guess as I can't seem to remember other than a trip to the doctor for a back treatment. Need to take along spikes and a hammer so they can nail it in place as it doesn't seem to stay any other way.

It was rather windy on Saturday but decided I would start making floral arrangements for us to have to take to the cemetery. I'm afraid I didn't get all of them done. I like to try to make them look nice and it was one of the things I did for Mother when she was alive. It was my yearly Mother's Day present to her. Got to be giving me a habit but she seemed to enjoy having me do it for her as she needed so many to go around.

Sunday was a busy day around here as Wynona came up with the girls. We had been down there on Saturday to help celebrate the girls' birthdays. Kariann was two May 13 and Courtney four years old May 22. The party was more for Kariann as Courtney will have one with some of her little friends from nursery school and dancing school, but there were presents for both girls and we had a good time. Kariann was to blow out the candles and did a pretty good job of it. Hope my pictures came out good of her in her birthday dress I made for her and sure hope Wynona got some good pictures of Courtney in hers when she had her party. It is lots of fun to make pretty things for the girls and that is the only way I can get gifts for them. I'm glad they are old enough to know I make them and that they like what I make.

Wynona had lots of small slacks to shorten for Kariann on Sunday. She is only about a year behind in clothes of what Courtney takes, so by shortening the legs of the slacks she can wear what Courtney had last year. It is a job but sure saves lots of money. Had a good time with them but was very tired when it came evening. Can't seem to take as much since I was sick.

Peggy played chauffeur on Monday by driving Russell to town in the morning, me to the doctor in the afternoon for another back treatment and then we all went to Grange in the evening. I told Peggy she had had a variety of cars to drive that day and variety was supposed to be the spice of life. She said it had been spiky, in that case.

Tuesday was such a beautiful day that Peggy wanted to go to see her older daughter, Myrna, so called to see what they would be doing. They were going to be at their cottage on Lake Thompson, so after doing flower arrangements in the forenoon as well as laundry while Russell was working on and painting the window boxes, and following lunch, we went to visit Myrna and her husband Bernard White at their cottage. It was a beautiful day to be outside and I didn't realize that I was burning my face but did, a little. Not enough to do any harm but it shows how warm the sun was and how tender my skin was, also.

Got up Wednesday morning and decided it was time to clean the stove, oven and all. What a job! However, it looks better than it did and that is quite a help. Peggy had an appointment in Bethel and also visited her youngest daughter Loretta Merrill in West Bethel. She didn't get back till after lunch and then helped Russell with his work putting up the window boxes or at least what she could. I took the time to take in some of my blouses that were much too large for me since losing weight. How nice it would be to step out and buy a new wardrobe but that isn't the way it works with me. I did alterations for a number of years and so do them for myself. Got to sew some new articles as soon as I can and have slacks to alter so they fit better.

We have had a couple of nights of playing trionomies since Peggy got home and for some reason, they haven't let me win at all. That's life. Can't win for losing sometimes.

Need to make an addition on the house for my African violets now, I guess. Had hoped to sell more at the sale at West Paris so I would have more room, but didn't get rid of as many as I should have. Also have spider plants that are growing good. I love to work with them and have good luck.

Congratulations to Gloria Wilson on receiving her GPN stripe in recent ceremonies at Berlin Vocational Technical College.

Harry Childs stopped at Irene's on his regular rounds.

Joe and Muriel Gilbert were in Lewiston to visit Muriel's sister Lil Lauze, who is in the hospital.

Gen and Howard Gorham visited the Gilberts Monday.

Sally Smith has had her shop on Route 26 in Woodstock open for ice cream for a few weeks. On Saturday she opened for the season with her full line of clams, chicken, hamburgers etc.

Earl and Carl Colby went to the truck pulls in Skowhegan Saturday.

at Milo and Down South Mills to decorate and visit their deceased there. While up that way, they called on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Turner in Palmira. Mary said that one didn't realize the extent of the damage done by the flood until you went to the places that were hit so hard. Seeing only the cement pads left where houses had stood, as well as the stains way up on buildings, showing the water level, made one much more aware of the damage. The remains of a restaurant washed down stream and smashed against a tree was a sight to behold. Those of us who were not hit by the flood better say prayers of thankfulness that we were not among those who suffered so many losses.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Harrington

HARRINGTON - ZOELLER

Ms. Ruth Zoeller and Thomas A. Harrington were united in marriage on April 25, 1987, at 2 p.m. in a double ring ceremony in Schmaetberg, West Germany.

The bride is the daughter of Hedwig and Franz Zoeller of Schmaetberg. Her husband is the son of Ray and Janice Harrington of West Greenwood.

In the traditional West German ceremony, the bride and groom followed by the wedding party approached the altar as the wedding march was being played.

Mrs. Gisella Hetterich, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The ring bearer was Christopher Zoeller; flower bearers were Anna and Stephan Zoeller; candle bearer was Katharine Ackerman; nieces and nephews of the bride, James Coffey, friend of the groom, served as best man.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and chandelier lace, and a chapel length veil. The gown was fashioned with a high illusion neckline. The short sheer puffed sleeves were embroidered with lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of pale pink roses and white daisies.

Immediately after the wedding a brunch was served, followed later that evening by dinner and entertainment. This was held at the guest house "Zum Hirschen," Ashaffenburg.

The bride was educated in Moenchberg and graduated from Dentist School in Ashaffenburg.

The groom graduated from Telstar Regional High School in 1982 and entered the U.S. Army in June of the same year. After a honeymoon trip to Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Chiemsee, Augsburg, Ulm, Dachau, and Austria, they are residing to Schmaetberg, West Germany.

JACKSON-SILVER UNIT #68

Jackson-Silver Unit #68, American Legion Auxiliary, met Thursday night with Vice President Mary Lyon substituting for President Leah Deegan who was away.

Plans were completed for Memorial Day. Poppy Chairman Vera Cross reported successful Poppy Days, May 15 and 16, and that she had placed the memorial wreaths at the graves of God Star Mother and Sister, Edith Jackson and Miss Clara Jackson in Bryant Pond.

The Unit donated $100 for Project Graduation at Telstar; $10 for the Tugus music fund and a donation for the Junior Activities program in charge of Kathy Bartlett.

Mrs. Rowena Dunham is in the Norway hospital. Flowers and cards will be sent to her.

Caps for the Sons of the American Legion have arrived.

Several members attended the communal service for Conrad Wilford Hart in West Paris, Saturday.

Starting in September the meetings will be convened at 7 p.m.

Newry

By AMY HANSCOM

Attention: Newry Mothers' Club Members. The banquet date has been changed from June 8 to June 10 at the Town and Country Inn. All meet at 6:30 please.

The planning board and selectmen held a joint meeting at the town office Wednesday evening to work on proposed changes in local ordinances and regulations. Planning board members, James Sysko, David Fleet and alternate William Cranston were unable to attend. Mr. Sysko has submitted a letter of resignation, but it is hoped that he will consent to remain on the board if he is relieved of his duties as chairman. A new flood plain management ordinance must be adopted by the town not later than June 15. If this is not done, flood insurance may not be available in Newry. This ordinance was approved by the joint boards and will be presented to the voters at a public hearing, followed by a special town meeting to be held at the municipal building Monday, June 15, at 7 p.m. Other ordinances worked on at the meeting were the site plan review, shoreline zoning and subdivision ordinances. Proposed changes in these ordinances will also be acted upon at the June 15 meeting.

The planning board elected new officers Wednesday evening: Mike Lynch, chairman; Nancy Noppa, vice chairman and clerk.

One hour of free entertainment will be provided at the municipal building Friday, June 5, at 1 p.m., courtesy of Commercial Paving Co., Inc., South Portland. Charles Arvey and Don Nichols will entertain with banjo, accordion, jokes and songs. This is the third year that these two have entertained here and they provide a very enjoyable hour of entertainment. Everyone is welcome. Come and bring your friends.

Louise Tetley, Sylvia Wight, Gil Seely, June Swan, Olive Anderson, Thelma Lowery, Betsy Clark, Bea Lowell went bowling Wednesday, May 19 in Rumford. Rena Powers was a guest. A very interesting situation developed—Gil Seely was high scorer on the triple string by only one point over Louise Tetley, who beat Betsy Clark by only one point, who beat Thelma Lowery by only one point. High scorer on the single was June Swan, who beat Gil Seely by only one point! All went out to a Rumford restaurant for a party for Bea Lowell, who received gifts from the ladies.

Sue Wight's art class were at the Hanson place Monday morning sketching that beautiful old barn. Afterward the class went to Sue's house and had a delicious potluck lunch. Some of her pupils' art work is on display at the Bethel Library this month.

TELSTAR MIDDLE/HIGH SCHOOL PARENT GROUPS TO MEET

The Telstar Middle School Parent Group and High School Spirit Group are planning to meet on Tuesday, June 2, at 7 p.m. The respective groups plan to review and discuss several interest areas:

- Status of new roadside board.
 - Academic recognition assemblies.
 - Open house programs.
 - Issue of parent group membership.
- Present and new members are encouraged to attend the year-end meetings at the Telstar library.

Sylvia Wight of the recreation committee has announced that 26 children from Bear River and 10 from Sunday River took advantage of the free ski loan program offered last winter by Les and Chris Otten of Sunday River Ski Resort. This is the second winter that skis have been loaned to Newry children free of charge and it is much appreciated by the children and their parents. Free skiing is also offered to Newry children.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wight attended the MSA meeting in Bangor May 19. Muriel McKercher, Fairfield, Conn., is guest of her sister, Sylvia Wight.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Wight and children of Old Town spent the holiday weekend at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wight.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Glover, Hollis, were at Amy Hanscom's place in Newry from May 18 to 25. They called on Amy and Roger Hanscom at their Bethel apartment.

Anita Parslow, Dayton; Brenda and Rodney Anderson, Buxton; Cheryl and Michael Drinkwine and Vada Boulotte, Hollis were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Glover Tuesday night. They came here to attend the funeral of Verne's mother, Bernice Glover, at Rumford Wednesday.

THIS WEEK AT THE Moses Mason House

All members and friends of the Bethel Historical Society plus the general public are cordially invited to attend the 8th Annual Faye Taylor Memorial Art Show on Saturday, May 30, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and the 198th observance of the birth of Dr. Moses Mason on Sunday, May 31, 2-4 p.m. Both will take place at the society's headquarters, the Dr. Moses Mason House.

Featured on Sunday will be a slide lecture "Lost Bethel" by Stanley R. Howe, society director, which will focus on structures and buildings that have been lost through the years in Bethel. There is no admission charge for these events.

Featured at the June 4 monthly meeting of the society will be a program devoted to the life and music of "Mellie" Dunham (Alanson Mellen Dunham, Jr.) who at the age of 72 in 1915 was invited by auto magnate Henry Ford to play his fiddle in Dearborn, Mich. This national exposure led to a contract with the Keith-Albee Vaudeville Circuit and for 23 weeks the fiddler and his wife, known to an adoring public as "Gram," toured the nation, appearing in 19 cities and making a small fortune for the times by merely being himself. When he appeared in Washington, D.C., Dunham and his wife called on President and Mrs. Coolidge at the White House. Arriving back in their native Norway (Maine) after the tour, the famed fiddler from Crockett Ridge and his wife Emma received a tumultuous welcome from friends and neighbors. Had it not been for Henry Ford, Dunham would have been known only locally for his fiddling and for his snowshoes which were used by Robert E. Peary for his famous trek to the North Pole in 1909. A pair of these snowshoes used by Peary can be seen at the Smithsonian today. Presenting the program will be the Bedard family of Norway/South Paris. Mrs. Emile Bedard is a granddaughter of "Mellie" Dunham. The program will include information on Dunham's life and career as well as some of his music. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. and will be held in the meeting room of the Dr. Moses Mason House. Congratulations are in order for Society Curator of Collections Randall H. Bennett for his award at the recent Bethel Area Chamber of Commerce Awards Banquet. He was honored for his recent highly acclaimed book on Oxford County's architecture.

BROWN - TOWNSEND ENGAGEMENT

Cecil W. Townsend of Windham is announcing the engagement of his daughter, Tammy Jean, to Kurt G. Brown of Bethel. Miss Townsend is also the daughter of the late Barbara Pendexter Townsend. Mr. Brown owns and operates Photography by Brown in Norway. An Aug. 29, 1987, wedding is planned.

Melinda Smith Remington of Bethel received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Home Economics from the University of Maine at Farmington at commencement exercises Saturday.

Agnes Gray School

By MARTA CLEMENTS

The kindergarten and first grade enjoyed a beautiful day and had a great time at the animal farm and fish hatchery at Gray. They saw moose, deer, bears, brown trout, turkeys, owls, bobcats, coyotes, a white porcupine, as well as many other wild Maine animals. After a picnic lunch, they returned to school.

The Agnes Gray School was well represented at the SAD #17 science fair. This year there were two divisions judged, life science projects and physical science projects. Joshua Walton was awarded first place in the life science for grade 5. Only one first place in each division is awarded and the winners received an impressive plaque. Three second place and three third place ribbons were awarded in each division also, and Emily Kiercherr of grade 5 won a third place. In grade 6, Andrew Merrill placed third in the life science category and Amy Tikander and Heather Newton received third place ribbons in the physical science division.

Joshua Walton's project involved earthworms and their effect on soil and plant growth. Emily Kiercherr was also a life science winner and her project involved bean plants and how they grew in different types of material. Andrew Merrill's project involved incubating chicken eggs and with power failures and building a suitable incubator. Andrew decided that hens are better mothers! Our two physical science workers hard on their projects also. Heather Newton demonstrated a variety of chemistry experiments and Amy Tikander explained how the sun affects household temperatures with her project called Radiant Heat.

This year's final program of performing artists was held on May 20. Sheila Curtis presented a one woman show of juggling, unicycling, mime, balloon sculpture, clown antics, visual, comedy and audience participation activities. She kept us all entertained throughout her 45 minute presentation to the whole school. Then, in individual classroom workshops that she conducted, we learned first hand that it's not all entertainment, but lots of hard work, too. Ms. Curtis will be spending the summer in Europe learning more and practicing her craft, but will be back in Maine in September.

Taking news from our weekly school calendar that our secretary, Alta Pierre and our volunteer, Dan Stinson, publish via the computer. Grade two is working on model farms, grade three and four are having oral book reports. Monday and Wednesday there is softball after school for boys and girls. This is one of the programs sponsored by the YMCA and is being coached by Beverly Farrar and Heidi Everett. The town Little League and softball teams have also started practicing at the town ball field evenings at 6 p.m.

The third graders' oral book reports have all been fiction. They have each made a puppet character and are using the puppets to tell the class about their books. The following is a list of students, books and puppet characters.

• Renee Pratt, "Bobby Bear and the Sap Tree," puppet Bobby Bear; returned to New York Thursday after a two week vacation at the farm. Robert and Joe Vatcher went fishing nearly every day but they failed to get any at Indian Pond.

Robert Anderson Sr., Burlington, Mass., came to his trailer at Bridgton Tuesday for a week so Joe Vatcher went over Thursday morning to show him where the big ones were.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vatcher went to Danvers, Mass., on Tuesday to see Joe's mother and also went to the Woburn cemetery with flowers for Elsa Vatcher's grave. All the cemeteries looked very neat and trim and such beautiful flowers and plants. It makes one forget that six weeks ago were bad floods.

The blackbirds or grackles must be having a convention on the front lawn and once in awhile they make a swoop near the cat.

Nathan Isley is still at Maine Medical Center.

Mrs. Lillian Robbins is having a septic system installed on her property at the top of Trap Corner hill where she will move her trailer soon. It will be nestled in the pine grove.

Callers at Lawrence's: Stanley Heath, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card, Mr. and Mrs. Odell Heath, Arnold Coffin, Doris Pinkham, Kisumnee, Fla.; and Mrs. Barbara Gallant of Bethel.

Have a good week and enjoy the sunshine.

Rotary Club notes

The Bethel Rotary Club held its regular meeting yesterday (Tuesday), at 7:30 a.m., at Martha's Restaurant.

Visiting Rotarians and guests joining with us were Dan Allen, Gould Academy, Gil Robinson, Wilmington, Del., Jack Zello and Tony McCrea, Rumford.

Raffleman Bruce Powell turned over 50 percent of the kitty to the winner, guest Dan Allen, who promptly turned his winnings over to the club's Polio Plus fund—a Rotary International effort to eradicate polio once and for all throughout the world.

Rotary information was provided by Bernie Wideman, who talked about the formation of Rotary and the transition that has occurred over time.

Rick Whitney presided at the meeting again this week. Rick mentioned that President Dave's boy is doing well. He also announced the upcoming Rotary projects. The full effort of all will be needed to accomplish the work.

The program chairman was Scott Dennis. His program consisted of a slide presentation of Mijas, Spain, which depicted the way of life, some of the architecture, etc. This is the area from which the Spanish students will be coming in July. A group of local students will be going to Mijas in 1988. Scott also talked about the Bike-a-thon, scheduled for the June 6th. Local interest in this fundraiser is solicited.

West Paris

By MIRIAM INMAN

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Melville and Dennis of Woodland were weekend guests of Donna's parents, Ivan and Ann Proctor. The West Paris post office will again be displaying pictures of the West Paris seniors. They are asked to bring them to the post office as soon as possible.

Don't forget the Firemen's Auxiliary flea market, craft and food sale at the fire station on May 30, starting at 9 a.m., rain or shine.

Forward Fellowship will meet on June 2 at 5:30 at the church. It is the annual "eat out" treat.

Much sympathy is extended to Margaret Nangle and Tom on the death of their husband and father, Dr. Thomas Nangle. We all have lost a great doctor and a good friend. He will be missed.

So. Woodstock

By OLIVE DAVIS

The first graduate I have to report is Tori Troester of Freeport, who graduated from Keene State College Sunday with a Bachelor of Science degree. Her grandparents were Gerald and Velma Davis. Her parents, Geraldine and David Shorey attended her graduation. Tori's aunt Esther Davis, daughter Patricia Tibbets and family, Jackie and Neil, in one car and Mr. and Mrs. Erland Twitchell and Edith Davis Deegan in another, trailed each other to Keene on Saturday to attend Sunday graduation. They returned home Sunday night.

Lettie Brooks took Colsita Morgan and Olive Davis to retired teachers' meeting Saturday at the Oxford Legion Hall. A good attendance filled the tables.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Andrews were over Sunday afternoon and took off my double windows and put on screens for the summer.

There's been a frost nearly every morning this last week. It just doesn't seem possible that it is time to plant with all this cold around. We could have a year without a summer like they tell about years ago.

Bertha Benoit and Olive Davis attended Franklin Grange Monday, May 18.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. James Miclon are enjoying the chicken pox. They all came down at once. Otherwise than itching, they are progressing well. The apple blossoms are popping out.

Tri-Town Rescue

Approximately 35 Tri-Town faithful attended the general membership meeting at the new barn on May 20. The meeting began with a general discussion of joy and thankfulness that we are finally in our own facility.

Following this portion of the program, plaques of appreciation were presented to auxiliary member Ruth Scribner, and to the chairman of the building committee, Warren Emery.

Several items of business were voted upon, including a by-law change that would include our in-service dispatchers as a part of the active personnel of Tri-Town. Following this vote, Janet Bennett was elected coordinator of in-service dispatchers.

After a short discussion, we voted not to allow smoking inside the building. Ruth announced that she had posted a "butt can" outside the door, and that she didn't want the yard covered with dirty old cigarette butts.

The plans for the public open house are pretty well made, now all that we need is good weather, and a good turn-out. Please come and help us celebrate on Sunday, May 31. The ribbon cutting will be at 2 p.m., along with a presentation by Oxford Bank, then refreshments and building tours will be the order of the day. For those who might not know, the building is at Trap Corner in West Paris, right on Route 26. It's the new blue building that may or may not have a sign on it by then. Please join us.

Auxiliary will be meeting at Trap Corner on Monday, June 1. They have asked me to remind everyone that we will again be holding a flea market in mid-July, so when you come across all that good junk while you're cleaning house, save it for us, and Ruth a call at 388-2183, or Dorene at 874-2346.

now. If we have some warmer weather things will grow again, but so far it has been too cold.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Verrill and daughter Evelyn; Mr. and Mrs. Brian Verrill and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Verrill went to South Lancaster Friday where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Selon Blood until Sunday. They all attended Tommy Verrill's graduation at Atlantic Union College. This was held outdoors Sunday. Alan returned home for the summer. He has a position at Rumford hospital for the summer. Alan will be a junior next year.

John Mills, along with Alan Larson, Chris Larson, and Roger Chopping, spent Friday and Saturday at the Assemblies of God, Northern New England District, Men's Retreat, on Centre Harbor, N.H.

Mrs. Nancy Fauser, Lynchburg, Va., and Mrs. Betty Hollis, Waltham, Mass., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Fuller.

Nellie Swan, Paris Hill, visited Vera Cross Friday and they both went to the cemetery to decorate graves.

My lobster cactus has finally stopped budding after blooming since Christmas. I don't know much about plants but this is the first time I've had a cactus bloom this long.

The Locke Mills Union Church Ladies Circle held their May meeting Wednesday at the Sunday School room. The ladies picked the committees for their summer sale coming up. They will meet next month on Tuesday, June 16, at 1:30 p.m. at the home of Margery Swan. The date had to be changed this month only due to an upcoming bus trip on June 17.

There were 13 present at the May meeting and everyone was pleased with the good turnout.

Troy Lord celebrated his 11th birthday, Monday, May 18, at his home.

I am pleased to receive an announcement of the graduation of Nancy Gordon from Greenville High School on June 3. I took care of the Gordon children more years ago than I care to think on and it is always nice when you are remembered.

5th & 6th GRADE TRACK MEET

Woodstock and Andover elementary schools will meet again for their third annual fifth and sixth grade track meet on Thursday, May 28. Sunday River

By ELAINE RAYMOND

Joe and Ann Salerno got a new 16 foot boat with a Japanese motor. They've been doing a lot of fishing, but haven't caught anything yet.

The Bate's trailer has moved down the Sunday River Road next to Fred Burk's house. It's up on cinder blocks, but there's no septic in yet.

The Burks have been hard at work planting their garden and getting caught up on spring cleaning. Gabe Harrington is hard at work, too, at Barker Brook cleaning out all the gravel that washed down from the mountain.

In spite of Phyllis, that couple reports that they had a great time in the West Indies on the S/V Mandalay. They recommend the trip to anyone who loves to sail and lie in the sun.

Bill Crampton was in Boston Friday for a Red Sox game. The Red Sox lost in an exciting game and a good time was had by all.

Ann Friedlander was up last week for the planning board meeting. She stayed in her new house which now has the electricity hooked up and is ready for the plumbing.

The Ottens went to the islands last week with their children. Chris and the kids were due back Sunday and Les will be back sometime this week.

Barb Veranas seems to have car problems. Eyewitnesses report that she comes home to switch cars at least twice a day. Let us know if we can help in any way, Barbie.

It's been a slow week, but rumor has it that next week will be busy, so stay tuned for more Sunday River news.

PURITY CHAPTER MEETS JUNE 3
Purity Chapter #102 will be holding its stated meeting on Wednesday, June 3. Rainbow Girls of Dwinah Chapter will be doing the Father's Degree. All Master Masons are cordially invited. Potluck supper at 6:30 p.m.

Speaking of times changing—where have all the good old fashioned barbers gone? You know the kind, the ones with the red and white barber poles over their doors, the ones with all the good smelling tonics, the ones who entertained their patrons as they cut, the ones who had ultimate patience with the tiny tots and their first cuts—saving the treasured locks for a weeping Mom!

Have these too passed into oblivion? My husband is of the old school, none of these fancy hair stylists for him. He used to be able to go up to "Teddy's", now Teddy is no more. So one day throwing all caution to the winds, Jere relented and deigned to walk into a beauty parlor in Berlin, casting furtive glances in all directions before stealthily crossing the street.

"How's about a haircut," he asked a sweet young thing who was sweeping the floor.

"Sure," she said, and seated him beside a wealthy old matron, who was getting a "only your hairdresser knows for sure" treatment. Taking out a delicate pair of her smallest scissors, she began to "style." Upon completion, when told the operation cost a total of seven whole dollars, my husband frowned outside to the car where we were sitting, growling and mumbling. "Look at that, she never took any off."

I tried to console him, "Honey," I said, "all you have to do is get yourself an earring, a silver bracelet for your wrist, a silver chain on your neck, some tight bluejeans, cowboy boots and a cowboy shirt that snaps closed leaving two snaps undone to expose that one hair you have growing on your chest. Look at it this way, you'll be in the in-crowd."

To no avail, alas—tonight we are going to Bryant Pond and see "Spide." Now there's a barber for you!

Condolences are extended to the family of Nettie Shelly, who passed away in the hospital in Lancaster, N.H. She is the Andrew and Marlene Stowell and family of Jackman spent the Memorial Day weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Stowell.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Lovejoy, Mr. and Mrs. Alanson Cummings and the Alanson Lovejoys went to a Mexico restaurant to help Rick and Ellen Whitney celebrate their anniversary, then everyone gathered at the Ray West's in Rumford in observance of Chris West's 11th birthday.

The regular meeting of the Pleasant Valley Grange will be held Thursday May 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lewis of Binghamton, N.Y., are visiting their son and family, the Rick Lewises.

Johathan and Rowena Stowell and family of Shirley, Mass., were guests of her parents, the Arthur Gilberts over the past weekend.

Rupert Grover was in Portland recently for a check-up following hip surgery and received a good report on his progress.

GAIL C. SCRIBNER

Mrs. Gail C. Scribner of East Bethel died Friday night, May 22, 1987, at the Market Square Health Care Facility, South Paris, following a long illness. She was born at East Bethel, Aug. 10, 1931, the daughter of Carroll and Leona Marston Curtis. She attended Bethel schools and graduated from Gould Academy in 1949. She married Kenneth Scribner on Nov. 23, 1949. Mrs. Scribner was a secretary for WHUM radio in Rumford for nine years and for the Madison Hotel in Rumford for two years. She was a member of the World War I Barrecks Auxiliary.

Survivors include her husband of East Bethel; a daughter, Mrs. Gilda E. Clark of LaGrande, Ore.; a son, Jeffrey D. Scribner of Bethel; a sister, Mrs. Gertrude Whitman of South Paris; two brothers, Lewis Curtis of Indianapolis, Ind., and Robert Curtis of Bethel; two grandchildren and two stepgrandchildren. She was predeceased by a son, Paul, in 1983.

Gravestone services are being held this Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock at the Abbott Mills Cemetery, Rumford.

LAURA H. SHAW

Mrs. Laura (Hutchinson) Shaw of South Paris, died Saturday night, May 23, 1987, at Montello Manor, Lewiston, after an extended illness. She was the widow of Harlan "Pete" Shaw.

She was born in Mason, the only child of Edwin and Leticia Mills Hutchinson. She was a graduate of Gould Academy in the class of 1920. Employed for a time about 60 years ago in the office of the Oxford County Citizen in Bethel, Mrs. Shaw had been a resident of South Paris most of her life. She worked for many years at Stephens Memorial Hospital in Norway as the business office manager, prior to which she had been associated with Hebron Academy and A.C. Lawrence Co. She was a member of the South Paris Universalist Church, and for many years was active in the Good Cheer Society of that church. After her retirement, Mrs. Shaw was also active in the Stephens Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

She is survived by several cousins.

Historical Society offers preservation advice

Dr. Stanley H. Howe, Director of the Bethel Historical Society, announced during Historic Preservation Week (May 18-19) that the society had formally established a free consulting service on preservation of old houses and other structures for persons interested in restoration and adaptive reuse of historic buildings. The society possesses an extensive library of historic preservation materials and members of its staff will attempt to answer questions from the interested public ranging from what doors would be appropriate for a Federal

Telstar honors guidance director

Dan Hart, guidance director at Telstar Regional High School, was honored last week for his recent appointment as president-elect of the Maine Association for Counseling and Development, as well as for his many contributions to the school over the last five years.

Principal Ted Davis proclaimed the week "Dan Hart Appreciation Week" at an assembly last Monday. After the announcement, the entire student body congratulated Mr. Hart on this most recent achievement with a standing ovation. Students and faculty showered Mr. Hart with gifts, good wishes, expressions of praise and gratitude throughout the week.

Highlighting the week were special presentations by each class. On Tuesday, the Freshman Class presented him with a seafood dinner and a certificate of appreciation, while on Wednesday the Sophomore Class awarded him dinner for two and babysitting gift certificates.

Knowing Mr. Hart's fondness for basketball, the Junior Class gave him a Boston Celtics jacket. The Senior Class' gift to their counselor was a La-Z-Boy Recliner. Students also recognized Marilyn Howe, guidance secretary, for her efforts working with them and assisting Mr. Hart in running an exceptional guidance program.

Concluding the week's festivities was a reception in his honor during Friday's activity period. The results of the cake judging were announced. The winning entry by the Junior Class depleted the many hats Mr. Hart wears as counselor. Students enjoyed the cakes, NHS ice cream sundies and punch provided by the faculty.

Mrs. Hart and daughter Lauren made a surprise appearance and were there to receive the faculty's gift of an aquarium to the Hart family.

Mr. Davis thanked Mrs. Berry for coordinating the week's activities, which, he said, helped promote school spirit.

Principal Davis commended Mr. Hart for his outstanding performance as Telstar guidance counselor. "The program and services he is providing as long high school counselor are truly exceptional and we are indeed fortunate to have a dedicated professional of such high calibre working in our school system," Mr. Davis said. "His counseling expertise and leadership have distinguished him in his profession throughout Maine and New England. Our school and community may all thank him for the reflected glow of his success as he leads Maine counselors in the next three years."
